

RULES REMINDER

COMPASSES

The use of a standard compass during the round to obtain directional information is permitted under the Rules of Golf. However, other features on a compass such as a bubble level, magnifier, ruler, or any other such device must not be used during a round, (Rule 4-3a.). As a best practice, we recommend that the compass contain no other feature, such as described above, or that the feature is covered over (using tape or indelible marker) to avoid any Rules issues.

Please see a PGA TOUR Referee with any questions.
